NEW BUSH CHIEF OF STAFF TO ADDRESS INTELLIGENCE GROUP

Admiral Daniel Murphy, USN (Ret.), Vice President-elect George Bush's newly appointed chief of staff, will address the Association of Former Intelligence Officers on December 5 at 12:30 at a lunch at the Fort Myer Officers' Club.

Presently Deputy Under Secretary of Defense for Policy Review, Admiral Murphy served as Bush's Deputy for Intelligence Community Affairs when Bush was Director of Central Intelligence.

Murphy will talk on the status of the nation's intelligence community.

A nation-wide, non-profit organization which recently held its Sixth Annual National Convention, AFIO is an association of intelligence professionals who served with or retired from one of the U.S. intelligence organizations and are now joined together to promote public understanding of the role of American intelligence.

The Honorable John M. Maury, former Assistant Secretary of Defense for Legislative Affairs and longtime intelligence officer, is the President of AFIO, and Major General Richard R. Stewart, USAF (Ret.), former Deputy Chief of the Defense Intelligence Agency, is the Chairman of the Board.
